The bit where I tell you
the story so far . . .

SO . . .

Well, I am still $9\frac{1}{4}$, very nearly $9\frac{1}{2}$, and I am still a SUPERHERO, and unfortunately my name is still PIZAZZ.

Apparently I am absolutely NOT allowed to change it.

EYE ROLL!

You probably think being a SUPERHERO is pretty cool, but when your whole family are SUPERHEROES it doesn't feel very cool. I mean, my mum and dad are about the furthest from cool you can get, and Grandma and Gramps are lovely, but cool? I don't think so.

AND THEN THERE'S . . .

RED DRAGON

RED DRAGON AKA The Most Annoying Little Sister EVER, who only gets top marks and is the chief school councillor and volunteers to teach the little kids to read and makes perfect cakes and is basically good at EVERYTHING . . . BUT I can burp the alphabet. So who is the real winner here?

Yep . . . It's her.

If that wasn't bad enough,
I get bossed about by our pet dog. Meet WANDA.

She came to us from Mission Control. Basically she receives messages about TOP-SECRET SUPERHERO missions, then she bosses us off to deal with them.

 SIDE-EYE ***

Oh yes,
and then there is . . .

★ EVERYTHING ★ ELSE!

SUPER powers are cool, unless you are me and have the MOST embarrassing SUPER power in the whole universe.

Then I am always having to dash off to save the planet. And always at the WORST possible moment. UGH.

AND guess what? I have to wear a stupid SUPERHERO costume the whole time.

So now you know. Being a SUPERHERO isn't as good as you probably think it is. And I am stuck with it FOREVER . . .

... SUPER .
